Search forms are designed to give intuitive access to a book's content. For example, Rowley & Baker can be searched from one search screen with an option to restrict a search by country or multiple countries if required.

The screenshot shows the 'EU Competition Law Online' website interface. At the top left, it says 'ELLIS PUBLICATIONS' and 'EU Competition Law Online'. There are links for 'help | contact us | log off'. A navigation menu on the left includes 'EU Competition Law Library' with sub-items like 'What's new?', 'Search all', 'Antitrust', 'Mergers', 'Liberalisation', 'State Aid', 'Case law', 'International', 'e-Competitions', 'Press information', 'Reports', and 'Newsletters'. Below that is 'Competition Law Handbook' with 'Subject search', 'Case search', and 'Table of Contents'. The 'Rowley & Baker' section is highlighted, containing 'Search' and 'Table of Contents'. The main content area is titled 'ROWLEY & BAKER INTERNATIONAL MERGERS SEARCH'. It features a 'Free text' search box with a placeholder 'eg: Shell, substantive assessment, T-5/02'. Below it is a 'Country' dropdown menu with 'Belgium or Germany' selected and a placeholder 'eg: Belgium or Germany, Chile'. Under 'Filing tools', there are three checked options: 'Summary of Merger Notification Requirements', 'Merger Notification Form', and 'Decision Tree'. At the bottom of the search box, it says 'Release 19, published April 2010' and has 'search' and 'reset' buttons. A small note at the bottom left of the search area says '■ We welcome your feedback »'.

The search forms offer functionality relevant to the title to aid the quick retrieval of information. For example, in EU Competition Law Handbook you can search cases by subject, name or number for a particular country or retrieve Commission cases by Type of Decision or Type of Procedure.
